by Mike Duberstein

• INAUGURATION OF Dr. Thomas H. Carroll as the University's 13th president will be held Wednesday, May 3, at 10 am in the University yard.

During the inauguration, the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws will be conferred on President John F. Kennedy. Chairman of the University Board of Trustees, Newell W. Ellison, will present President Kennedy for the degree and President Carroll will confer the degree.

Chairman Ellison will conduct installation of the President of the University and presentation of the symbols of office.

Greetings will be delivered by Dr. Clark Kerr, president of the University of California where President Carroll received his undergraduate degree; by Dr. McGeorge Bundy, special assistant to the President of the United States and former dean of the faculties of arts and science at Harvard where President Carroll received his master's degree and doctorate; and by Dr. Logan Wilson, chancellor of the University of Texas and president of the American Council on Education. President Carroll will deliver a brief inaugural address.

Delegates from 600 colleges and universities, including 59 college presidents, and delegates from 60 learned societies will march in the academic procession. Mrs. Kennedy will also attend. In the event of rain, the inauguration will be held at the same time in Constitution Hall.

Following the inauguration an inaugural luncheon will be held at the Mayflower Hotel. Presiding will be Dr. Elmer L. Kayser, professor of European history and senior professor at the University.

Greetings will be delivered by David E. Aaronson, president of the Student Council; James C. Van Story Jr., president of the Alumni Association; Vice Admiral Oswald S. Colclough, USN Ret., University provost and dean of faculties; and the Reverend Edward B. Bunn, S. J., president of Georgetown University, representing the institutions of higher learning in the Washington area.

Baraff, Young Head Council

by Bob Aleshire

• JAY BARAFF, who served as IFC vice president and chairman of the Racial Discrimination Committee this year, was elected by acclamation as president of the Interfraternity Council for the coming year.

The election, meeting found Jeff Young selected as vice-president, Bob Corens as secretary; Rick Hardock as treasurer, and Ted Thomas as social chairman.

Upon taking office, Mr. Baraff commended outgoing President Charles Mays. He then outlined a

Pres. Carroll Invites

• PRESIDENT THOMAS H. Carroll has extended a personal invitation to all students to attend his inauguration Wednesday in Lisner yard. Five hundred tickets have already been distributed through the Activities office and 300 more have been made available. Any student wanting to attend who cannot get a ticket, will be given priority at the door. In case of rain, the inauguration will be held at Constitution Hall.

program of community service, including a joint pledge class project that would reap the Council some "favorable publicity" for the coming year.

Before turning over the books to his successor, Treasurer John Vogt made a plea that fraternities pay their outstanding debts. He reported that if he did not have "$100 by tomorrow, a check will bounce." Pi Kappa Alpha led the list of debtors with $210 outstanding.

The Discrimination Committee, which has aroused much discussion and prompted closed sessions in past weeks, was made a permanent body without a single comment.

Ex-Social Chairman Jeff Young reported that the $225 bill for damages to the Presidential Arms, site of the IFC Prom, had been paid, and that the manager declined to give the local papers a story on the damages when asked. Mr. Young said that the manager was willing to have the Prom there next year, but suggested that beer be served instead of liquor, since his liquor license was endangered by the Prom.

27 Petition For Council Office; SC Elections Committee Rules

Nine Candidates Run Unopposed

by Deanne Siemer

• THE STUDENT COUNCIL ruled 27 petitioners eligible to run for the 16 Council offices in this week's elections.

Nine of the candidates will run unopposed: Charles Mays, President; Jay Baraff, vice president; Helene Harper, secretary; John Day, publicity director; Don Ardell, freshman director; Ann Haug Mays, School of Education representative; Judy Crumlish, School of Government representative; Ray Lupo, School of Engineering representative, and Joe Spitzer, Columbian College representative.

The candidates are all running as independents and have advanced individual platforms.

Comptroller

Marty Gersten, candidate for Council Comptroller, wants to establish a check cashing service for students, to organize an inter-collegiate council of area schools to coordinate school functions, to present printed budgets and financial reports regularly for the council, and to increase student participation in council by placing a suggestion box in the Student Union.

Stover Babcock, stands on a platform of attempting to cross group barriers to make student politics and activities representative of all University students rather than reflective of special interest groups. Babcock pledges leadership of the student body in full cooperation with President Carroll's program to further develop the University.

Program Director

Stan Remsburg, candidate for Program Director, proposes a weekly schedule of events both on campus and in the city to be publicized either in the HATCHET or prominently displayed on the bulletin board in the Union.

Shirley Carpenter believes that more advance notice would help increased student attendance at events. Since there are no party

Council Elections

• VOTING DAYS FOR the Student Council election are Wednesday, May 3 from 12:00 noon to 8:00 pm, and Thursday, May 4 from 8:30 am to 8:00 pm. The booths are in front of the Union. Activities books are required for voting.

Demonstration times are: Wednesday, 12 noon to 1 pm and 5 to 6 pm; and Thursday, 8:15 am to 8:45 am, 10:00 to 11:00 am, 12:30 to 1:00 pm, and 5:00 to 8:00 pm. These are allowed only on "G" Street from 21st street to the west end of Monroe Hall and on 21st street, between G and H streets.

platforms, she believes individuals must be willing to cooperate with the other winning candidates after the election in formulating a Student Council policy.

Member-at-Large

The member-at-large contest between Mike Duberstein and Al Gallani is of increased importance because of the new stature of the member-at-large as head of the University's Cultural Foundation. Duberstein sees a comprehensive and dynamic foundation under an annual theme which would present noted national figures and utilize fully the cultural aspects of the University. In addition, Duberstein advocates an area-wide cultural organization combining all Washington colleges and universities and a fuller assimilation of the part-time student into University activities.

Al Gallani wants the Student Council to take the initiative in all campus functions and to improve student participation in the activities of the Cultural Foundation, by bringing independent, part-time and fraternity students into a more closely knit group. Gallani would encourage the promotion of all school activities with emphasis on great artists and athletics.

On Qualifications Of 4 Candidates

by Stan Remsburg

• THE STUDENT COUNCIL Election committee ruled on eligibility of four challenged candidates and disqualified one of them in a special meeting Friday afternoon.

Candidates whose petitions were questioned were: Carlyn Sundberg, candidate for Columbian College representative; Martin Gersten, candidate for comptroller; Don Ardell, candidate for freshman director; and Stover Babcock, candidate for president.

Miss Sundberg was disqualified and Messrs. Gersten, Ardell and Babcock were declared eligible. Babcock ruled himself out of the presidential race, however, and declared himself in the race for comptroller. (He had handed in petitions for both posts.)

But the committee was called into special session again Sunday to reconsider Mr. Babcock's candidacy in the presidential battle. This meeting was called after Mr. Babcock notified Student Council President and Committee co-chairman Dave Aaronson, earlier in the day, that he had reconsidered the committee's acceptance of his presidential petition and had decided to remain in that race. This decision, he said, would exclude him from the comptroller battle (maybe).

The committee voted unanimously that Babcock—by officially declaring himself out of the presidential race Friday—could not reconsider his candidacy in that race, at that late date.

The committee then notified Babcock of the decision and told him that he had the right to appeal the verdict to the Student Life Committee if he notified the student activities assistant by 10 am Monday, May 1.

At the Friday meeting, the Election committee invoked rules in this fashion:

June Graduates

• STUDENTS EXPECTING to graduate at the June Convocation, who have not already done so, must file an application for graduation in the Registrar's office by Wednesday, May 3. The graduation list will be closed at that time.

Any student not meeting this deadline will have his graduation postponed until the October Convocation. Failure to apply prior to May 3 will necessitate registration "in residence" for the summer session in order to be eligible for the October Convocation.

University Leases Dormitory To Fill Girls' Housing Needs

• HANCOCK HALL AT McLean Gardens has been leased by the University for the coming year to house 150 women students.

"With a growing number of full-time students from places outside of Washington, the residence hall situation has become increasingly acute," said President Carroll. "The signing of a lease for Hancock Hall represents an important step toward the solution of this problem."

Hancock Hall, constructed during World War II, will increase the housing available to University women by approximately one third. It is located at 3665 38th st. nw., and is a 30-minute bus ride from the University.

Requests for space in the University's two women's halls on the campus have outnumbered their capacity, making it necessary to provide additional off-campus housing. By leasing an entire building, the University will be able to provide the same program, supervision and services as in the campus residence halls.

Troubadours' Concert

• THE UNIVERSITY Glee Club will give a concert on Friday, May 12, at 8:30 pm in Lister. The Troubadours, selected voices from the glee club, who appeared at Radio City Music Hall last summer and toured U.S. Arctic bases at Christmas, will be featured on the program.

Dr. Robert Howe Harmon, director of the glee clubs, will lead the 40 singers in a program of popular show tunes, patriotic and folk songs, classical and sacred music. Mrs. Grace R. Harmon, associate director of the glee club, will accompany the group. Soloists will be Ed Hamlet, baritone, and Sharon Mobley, soprano. Several duets will be done by Jan Larkins and Bernie Stopak.

Bad Weather Didn't Dampen Festive Mardi Gras Spirits

by Joan Mandel

• COLD WEATHER and gale-force winds could not deter approximately 500 students from attendance at the Mardi Gras, last Saturday.

A spin of the Wheel of Fortune named Hamm Beggs, king, and Margie Grey, queen over the affair, which lasted from 5:30 to 11 pm. Under the supervision of Lynda D'Andre, hot dogs and other refreshments were dispensed, while "The Collegians," with vocalist Jerome Powell, entertained. Ken Reitz, with the special help of Billy Daniels, arranged for the appearance of Link Way, Barry Sidell, "Big" Al Downing and Phil Flowers, popular recording artists.

The street, decorated with balloons, crepe paper, and colored lights, had been prepared with the aid of co-chairmen of decorations, Karen Dixon and Bill Cooper, who also painted a large backdrop at the bandstand.

The AEPI and TEP houses were open throughout the evening.

Among the numerous prizes was that won by Brian Girder, whose name was drawn from those who correctly guessed Mary Marler as the Mystery Clown. Sandy Evans and Quincy Adams won a steak dinner for two when they were chosen the best costumed.

Co-chairmen of publicity, Jon Mechenburg and Helene Harper, contributed toward the attendance record, while others who helped were Don Ardell, in charge of special activities, Sandy Bergman, alumni and faculty relations, and Bob Kittredge, tickets; Barry Kanter, Secretary; Neal Berryman, comptroller, and Morty Press, his assistant.

According to Bennet Marshall and Bob Levine, co-chairmen of Mardi Gras, "Without the help of these chairmen and all the others who worked on the Mardi Gras, and especially the cooperation of the student body, the affair could not have been as successful as it was."

Council Picks Fall Chairmen; Proposes Univ. Peace Corps

by Leah Figelman

THE STUDENT COUNCIL selected chairmen for book exchange, career conference, student director and the fall concert, Wednesday night.

Book exchange co-chairmen are Sharon Ringel and Sue DiFilippo. Fall concert chairmen are Mike Duberstein and Ira Schandler. Chosen as co-editors of the student directory were Michael Brozot and Dave Segal, and as career conference chairmen Veda Tudor and Alan Plotnick.

Proposals for the fall concert include a return engagement of Charlie Byrd sometime in October. The Friday or Saturday night concert will be included on Campus Combo, and Co-Chairman Mike Duberstein has specifically requested more Student Council membership participation and more publicity in other area schools.

Next year's student directory is slated to appear as soon as possible after registration. Also being considered is putting the directory on Combo and adding a second semester supplement for new students.

The revived career conference proposes to utilize University alumni as speakers and also to assemble a list of names of District employers who will offer summer jobs in their fields.

Other Student Council action included a proposal by president Dave Aaronson to establish a peace corps for University students. The corps' function would be to help new under-graduate foreign students assimilate into the college life.

Operation of the peace corps will be similar to Old Men or Big Sis, only the job will not end after orientation week. A qualified American student will be assigned to each new foreign student. His function will not merely be to tell foreign students about our activities program but to participate with him. He will also consult with him about his academic problems.

The Student Council will request that Old Men and Big Sis recommend peace corps members to the Student Council. Also, any organization or individual may petition for the peace corps.

Election Rules

was ruled ineligible in her race because of the Articles of Student Government provision stating "Representatives of school or college divisions must be members of the school or college which they represent at the time of election."

Marty Gerstein did not fully meet the qualification that "The Student Council comptroller shall have completed at least one year's study in the principles of accounting." He is now finishing his second semester of accounting. The Committee ruled since the rule did not set a definite completion date and since Mr. Gerstein will have his work finished by the time he takes office, he is eligible to run.

Don Ardell has not completed three semesters at the University. However, he will have finished them by the time he takes office at the end of the semester, and thus was ruled eligible.

Stover Babcock has not completed the five semesters necessary for presidential candidacy; he also has only 55 semester hours instead of the required 60. When he takes office he will have finished the requirements, so the Committee ruled him eligible for candidacy.

Election Results, May Queen Highlight May Day Festivities

MAY DAY will feature an "Evening of Stars" this Friday night at 8:00 pm in Lisner auditorium.

Stanley Heckman will emcee the affair which will feature announcement of the Student Council election returns, the HATCHET editorial board, and of the May Queen.

The May Queen is selected from the girls who have been elected to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. All University women vote for the Queen and her court.

Other awards which will be presented include: tapping of the new Mortar Board, Omicron Delta Kappa members, and Order of Scarlet.

WOMEN STUDENTS will vote for May Day Queen Friday, from 11:00 am to 5:00 pm in front of the Student Union or from 9:00 am to 5:00 p.m. in the Student Activities office. Finalists are: Cynthia Rhodes, Patricia Gillam, Susan Kinneman, Dorothy Lund and Edith Petersilia.

Editorial

No Contests . . . Why?

STUDENTS WERE supposed to vote this week for 16 Student Council officers, but they will be able to vote for only seven. The reason for this sad state of affairs, quite simply, is that nine officers, including the president, have been elected without opposition.

It would be hard to pin the blame for this poor turnout of petitioners on any one group on campus. Rather, it seems that this "win by default" condition is a product of a number of considerations.

On This Score

The first and most obvious cause, most certainly, must be an indecision by student leaders and followers over whether student politics, on this campus, will be partisan politics. And it seems to us that, on this score, nobody really understands what a political party is supposed to be.

Technically, we should have two of them—the Colonial Campus party and the Students for Better Government. But the first one is now dead—licked at the polls last year in the presidential race and again last fall in the special member-at-large election. Nobody even bothered to organize it again this spring.

The second political party—the SBC—still calls itself a party. But it decided not to run a slate of candidates this year. The reason that was given for this strange maneuver was that the SBC favored a two-party system on campus. And its members said, if two parties couldn't be represented in the race, then no party should be tested for its qualifications at the polls.

Obvious Apathy

But taking the party system to task doesn't solve the question entirely. Other considerations may have a bearing on the poor turnout of petitioners. The first of these, and by all odds the most obvious, is student apathy.

For independents here, it seems, would rather be dubbed independent of everything—not just the fraternities. And the fraternities seem to be lacking in individual initiative.

It is when we consider this lack of individual initiative that we ask: Why? And the answer would, most logically, seem to be that no man—whether he's an independent or a Greek—wants to petition for office and try to conduct a campaign with no organization behind him.

Yet this need not be the case.

For fraternities and sororities are organized and can be molded into effective campaign organizations—if and when they decide that one of their number is qualified to run for a particular office.

Then, if Greek organizations become too powerful in student politics, the one or two party system can come into play—to organize and back the campaigns of break-away Greek elements and interested independents.

Even though these factors are recognized by a few political novices on campus, these few leaders have not sought a proper balance. Instead, fraternities, this year, have gone ahead, as always, and backed their own members for office and have formed coalitions with other Greek groups. But the two organizations—the CCP and the SBC—which could have fought against these coalitions have not done so. Instead, they have done more to create apathy, by insuring "no contest" victories for many of next year's council members.

Fall To See

Thus, it is not with the fraternities that we wish to take issue or with independents. Instead, we fall to see how two groups of individuals—the SBC and CCP—could let down the students they purport to represent.

The CCP quite possibly deserved to die. It was repudiated in one major race last year because it was felt that its convention was rigged and that it had made Greek coalitions open and above board. But instead of sticking to their conviction that there was nothing wrong with this, the CCP went out of existence in name—but not in character.

For many of the same Greek groups—give or take two or three—have formed new coalitions this year and have come up with a unified slate of candidates.

SBG Response

And what was the SBC's response to this development? It was, as stated earlier, to step out of the race of personages and into a battle of platform. Any SBC member could run for any office just so long as he accepted the party platform. But this decision, of itself, caused a breaking away and splintering of a potentially good and effective campaign organization.

We hope that next year will not see a repeat performance of these bad mistakes.

SBG Party Adopts Election Platform

THE STUDENTS FOR Better Government political party adopted its platform in a meeting Friday afternoon.

The platform states:

To clarify, present and organize a set of issues in order to improve and co-ordinate student relations with the faculty and administration, and in order to provide a full and well oriented student life, we propose the following principles, goals and resolves for the GW student body in 1961-62:

1) That the program to integrate our foreign students into University affairs be continued and improved by the Council and the International Students Society jointly sponsoring at least two programs.

2) That the Council look into the establishment of an inter-area council consisting of representatives of the student councils from the colleges in the Washington area to promote more effective coordination and programming between these councils.

3) That SBC members of Council continue the policy of passing resolutions on national issues which affect the students' interest.

4) That the Student Council look into a plan for keeping the University library open over the summer for students who will return the following semester, but not attend summer school.

5) That the SBC members of the Student Council continue the work of past SBC members by bringing improved cultural activities to GW.

6) That the Council research and start next year an effective tutoring service, where students wanting to tutor and wanting to be tutored can get together.

7) That extensive re-evaluation of Council finances be undertaken and recommendations be made on the effectiveness of a Student Activities fee at GW.

8) That the Potomac Literary magazine be placed on Campus Combo.

9) That a meal ticket plan be pursued for the Student Union.

10) That we WILL attend Student Council meetings.

The SBC members running for the Student Council are all pledged to back this platform and to work for it if they are elected.

Phi Beta Kappa Taps Twenty University Juniors, Seniors

by Sherry Ringel

TWENTY UNIVERSITY STUDENTS have been elected to Phi Beta Kappa by faculty members of the Alpha chapter of the District of Columbia.

Membership requirements for this national liberal arts and sciences honor society include a Q.P.I. of 3.25 for seniors or 3.50 for juniors; a total of no less than 45 credit hours at the University for seniors and 75 hours for juniors.

The students must be in the Columbian College or taking predominantly liberal arts courses in another non-professional division. Faculty support is necessary for election.

The students to be initiated at the end of the month are:

Bernard R. Aserkoff, a senior majoring in chemistry. His activities include secretary and pledge master of Tau Epsilon Phi; president of the pre-medical society; Order of Scarlet; Phi Eta Sigma; Alpha Theta Nu.

Beverly A. Beers, a senior majoring in psychology.

Maria E. Bodé, a junior majoring in chemistry. She is the president of Alpha Lambda Delta, and a member of Alpha Theta Nu, Tassels, and Iota Sigma Pi, chemistry women's honorary.

John W. Boettger, a senior majoring in history. He received the Honorary Mast from the U.S. Navy in 1958.

Richard C. Brown, a graduate student of government and foreign affairs. He has been a member of Sigma Chi, Old Men, Spanish club, Pi Gamma Mu, Young Republicans. He has a Scottish Rite Fellowship to study at the University, and has received a Rotary International Fellowship for study abroad for 1961-62.

Hana Bruml, a graduate student of psychology. Mrs. Bruml is an assistant to Dr. Eva Johnson of the psychology department and is a member of Psi Chi.

Paula Fortucci, a junior majoring in foreign affairs. Her activities include scholarship chairman of Delta Gamma; Alpha Lambda Delta; Tassels; publicity chairman of Big Sis; vice president of the Panhellenic council; Alpha Theta Nu.

Arnost Heidrich, a junior majoring in mathematics.

Elizabeth Holmes, a senior majoring in religion. She has been a class representative to the Russian club, and a member of the Russian club choir.

Dee Anne Houston, a junior majoring in zoology. Mrs. Houston's activities include Alpha Lambda Delta, Tassels, Alpha Theta Nu, corresponding secretary and scholarship chairman of Sigma Kappa.

Philip W. McClain, a graduate in mathematics.

Hazel C. Moore, a junior majoring in chemistry. Mrs. Moore is president of Iota Sigma Pi.

David M. Moss, a senior majoring in mathematical statistics. He has been a student assistant in the University statistics department for two years, and is a member of the Institute of Mathematical Statistics, the American Statistical Association, and the American Society for Quality Control.

Richard K. Oliver, a senior majoring in mathematics.

Joyce Ormsby, a junior majoring in mathematics.

Letters To The Editors

WOULD THE STUDENTS of George Washington University support lectures and symposiums? A considerable portion of student leaders frowned and lamented the apathy of our metropolitan campus, and informed me—"No!" I ask their reappraisal. I know the student body will support cultural activities. The recent success of the lecture series and seminars proves my assertion.

With the disturbing question answered, the George Washington University Cultural Foundation will now proceed to enlarge the intellectual arena vital to the University community.

I share with my fellow committee members the proud awareness of the heritage granted to the future students of George Washington University.

/s/ Michael J. Clark
Chairman of the
George Washington University
Cultural Foundation

THE HUGE INCREASE in tuition for the coming fall has finally triggered this modest protest in behalf of a tolerated minority, night law students.

Although night students pay the same tuition as day students, they receive an inferior return. Night classes are so overcrowded that students often recite only once or twice a semester. Since classes usually contain from 70 to 100 students, the University is receiving from $7,000 to $10,000 per class under the present tuition rates. These amounts certainly must exceed the cost of four hours per week of the professors time and four hours of class room rental. Since there is a surplus of income from night school tuition why cannot a part of this surplus over expenses be used for the benefit of those who provide it?

Night students are denied scholarships and student loans. Funds for these activities must be derived in some measure from the surplus of night school tuition. Why cannot night students be given the incentive of scholarships for which to compete? I propose the following remedies:

- Night classes should be restricted to 60 students in all cases, and to 30 students where practicable.
- Four tuition scholarships for night study should be made available for outstanding students who cannot afford full-time study. These should be awarded on the basis of law school performance and not previous work.
- One full-time scholarship for a year of day study should be created to enable an outstanding scholar to take his last year of work as a full-time student.
- When a bona-fide emergency arises which would normally force a student to drop out of school, night students should have access to loan funds.

FRESHMEN SMARTIES

ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA, freshman women's honorary, initiated fourteen new members on April 29.

The initiates, all of whom had at least a 3.50 average for their first semester's work, are Ruth Burnick, Dorothy Cain, Mary L. Cross, Ann L. Harris, Diana R. Jones, Kira Kalvick, Kathleen Mach, Joan E. Mandel, Mary E. Musselman, Constance Phillips, Carolyn A. Pickell, Nancy Rosenberg, Jill Wax, and Mildred Wrenn.

Those freshmen women who have a Q.P.I. of 3.5 or better for the whole year's work will be initiated in the fall.

HAM RADIO SCHOLARSHIP

THE FOUNDATION for Amateur Radio, Inc., Munsey Building, 1329 E street N.W., has announced a $250 electronics scholarship to licensed radio amateurs now in college.

Applicants must have completed one year in an accredited college or university, be enrolled in a course of studies leading to a degree and be planning a career in electronics. They must also hold FCC licenses of at least general class rating.

COLLEGE BOWL

EIGHT STUDENTS ARE now in competition for the University's team for the GE College Bowl to be televised June 11.

Those chosen are: Barbara S. Carter, Margaret Neff, Francis McGlynn, Joyce Ormsby, Martin Reece, Stanley Remberg, Howard Schechter, and Richard Weissberg. Dr. Theodore Perros, the team's coach, will accompany the four finalists and the alternates to New York for the program.

COLCLOUGH PORTRAIT

THE PORTRAIT OF Vice-Admiral Oswald S. Colclough, USN Ret., former Acting President and presently Provost and Dean of Faculties, will be exhibited for the first time along with 30 other portraits by the same artist in the University Library this week.

Bjorn Egell, the distinguished Norwegian-born American portrait painter, was commissioned by the University trustees to paint Provost Colclough for the University's collection of portraits of presidents and acting presidents. Mr. Egell's painting career began in Washington in 1929 and has included over 700 portraits of prominent people.

DEBATE HONORARY

DELTA SIGMA RHO, national forensics honorary, elected 13 students to membership last week. New members are: Robert Alshire, Stanley Remberg, David Aaronson, Al Capp, William Daly, William Stuart, Barbara Carter, Molly Harper, John Diesem, Stephanie Patchen, Carlyn Sundberg, Margaret Neff and Linda Stone.

Foggy Bottom

by Hester Heale

● LAST SATURDAY, the Phi Sigma Deltans held their annual dinner-dance. Officers for 1961 were installed and awards were presented. The awards were: best pledge, the whole pledge class; outstanding brother, Richard Alpher; scholarship, Jay Baraff; best athlete, Richard Alpher; and the sweetheart for 1961-1962, Karen Jacobs. A special award, presented to Art Ugel, will henceforth be presented every year and will be known as the Art Ugel award.

The brothers were seen in various forms of inebriation and conversation. Al Love was trying to tell his Baby Ruth that his way was the right way to sing "Alouette." New prexy Marv Waldman was trying to convince Richie, who was very serene tonight, that he paid only ten dollars a vote. Barry Feldman and Joel Molen, who planned the wonderful affair, were wrapped up in a couple of problems that Della and Norma did not want to help them solve. Ned Schwartz was protesting to Faye Rubin that he did not deserve the Beetle award.

Other brothers and their dates were Hal (PM) Levy and pinmate Linda Zuker, Joel Rosenberg and Phyllis, Harry Knish and date. Also, Ron Guttman brought his Singer, Leon brought his nose and his Gould, and new VMF Phil Walcott and pinmate Karen. Ed and Bill confused Corky and Lealie by switching jackets. The gala affair ended when the men in white coats came to carry off Barry, who was wildly yelling, "Only twenty-seven dollars."

On Wednesday afternoon, the Chi Omegas played host to the SAEs at a luncheon given in the sorority rooms. The main attraction besides the girls was a "May-pole" which was decorated just for the day although May 1 was at least six days off. Bill Pasche was elected king of the "Maypole." Congratulations Bill. A second attraction was, naturally, the food. Sandwiches were abundant, everyone clamoring for "more tuna fish maw." The SAEs left with their tummies filled, and the Chi O's got off with just cleaning up the mess.

On Friday night the PIKEs threw a comode party for AEPH sorority. Seen being a little tipsy were Ned Papalardo and his friends, Tom Fuller and his dinner list, and John Bokoles and his infinitesimal cheese sandwiches.

Meanwhile in a sober state were Marty Hertz and Janet Ginsberg, Leah Beyda and Al Gallani and John Bacon and Alice Linde. All those people and many, many more enjoyed themselves thoroughly (and certainly consumed enough beer to keep Ballantine in business for the next year).

At the same time the PIKEs were spiking the pike dyke, Dick Fischman of Phi Sigma Kappa and pinmate Mary Cauffman gave a "clean-up" party. Griff Jones and

THE UNIVERSITY HATCHET, Tuesday, May 2, 1961-5

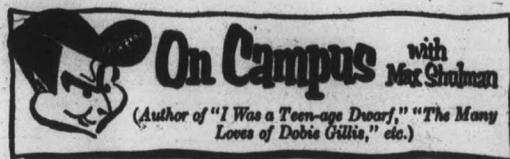

Date Kay Covington reminisced about high school by playing outdated 45 RPM records. Between records loud barking and menacing growls could be heard through the open door of the apartment. Burning cabbages and dwarf hot dogs set the mood for the evening as fellow party goers pushed the matchbook around with their noses. At midnight there was a moment of silence in reverence to the Phi Sigma Kappa beloved house manager, absent, Bill Dirks. Other seen at the party were Ken Reitz and pinmate Karen Dixon, John Prokop and his incorporated harem, and Pete Danton and his date Suzanne Quimby.

AEPH this week had lots of fireworks. Elections for officers went to Barry Young, Master; David Segal Saunders, Lieut. Master; Jeff Young, Exchequer; Jack Cohen, Pledgemaster; and Seth Rosen, Scribe. Bev Hellman was elected Sweetheart for 1960-1961.

This past weekend the Apes held a swinging open house for Mardi Gras. Seen drinking beer and watching the late flick were newly pinned Marty Gersten and Vivian Margolis, Barry Young and Judy, Jeff Young and Pris. Jeff Hoffman and Pat Poindexter wandered aimlessly from the street to the house, caring little for the cold and chaos. Dave Seagull, Roger Stuart and Cindy, Pete Constantine and Marsha Jontiff also joined in the festivities.

Delta Zeta sorority announces its officers for the coming year: Elizabeth Wells, president; Betty Malnassey, rush chairman; Norma Church, pledge trainer; Karen Kraft, recording secretary; Sue Swan, treasurer.

A ROBE BY ANY OTHER NAME

As Commencement Day draws near, the question on everyone's lips is: "How did the different disciplines come to be marked by academic robes with hoods of different colors?" Everybody—but everybody—is asking it. I mean I haven't been able to walk ten feet on any campus in America without somebody grabs my elbow and says, "How did the different disciplines come to be marked by academic robes with hoods of different colors, hey?"

This, I must say, is not the usual question asked by collegians who grab my elbow. Usually they say, "Hey, Shorty, got a Marlboro?" And this is right and proper. After all, are they not collegians, and, therefore, the nation's leaders in intelligence and discernment? And do not intelligence and discernment demand the tastiest in tobacco flavor and smoking pleasure? And does not Marlboro deliver a flavor that is uniquely mellow, a selectate filter that is easy drawing, a pack that is soft, a box that is hard? You know it!

But I digress. Back to the colored hoods of academic robes. A doctor of philosophy wears blue, a doctor of medicine wears green, a master of arts wears white, a doctor of humanities wears crimson, a master of library science wears lemon yellow. Why? Why, for example, should a master of library science wear lemon yellow?

Well sir, to answer this vexing question, we must go back to March 29, 1844. On that date the first public library in the United States was established by Ulric Sigafos. All of Mr. Sigafos's neighbors were of course wildly grateful—all, that is, except Wrex Todhunter.

Mr. Todhunter had hated Mr. Sigafos since 1822 when both men had wooed the beautiful Melanie Zitt and Melanie had chosen Mr. Sigafos because she was mad for dancing and Mr. Sigafos knew all the latest steps, like the Missouri Compromise Mambo, the Shay's Rebellion Schottische, and the James K. Polk Polka, while Mr. Todhunter, alas, could not dance at all owing to a wound he had received at the Battle of New Orleans. (He was struck by a falling praline.)

Consumed with jealousy at the success of Mr. Sigafos's library, Mr. Todhunter resolved to open a competing library. This he did, but he lured not a single patron away from Mr. Sigafos. "What has Mr. Sigafos got that I haven't got?" Mr. Todhunter kept asking himself, and finally the answer came to him: books.

So Mr. Todhunter stocked his library with lots of dandy books and soon he was doing more business than his hated rival. But Mr. Sigafos struck back. To regain his clientele, he began serving tea free of charge at his library every afternoon. Thereupon, Mr. Todhunter, not to be outdone, began serving tea with sugar. Thereupon, Mr. Sigafos began serving tea with sugar and cream. Thereupon, Mr. Todhunter began serving tea with sugar and cream and lemon.

This, of course, clinched the victory for Mr. Todhunter because he had the only lemon tree in town—in fact, in the entire state of North Dakota—and since that day lemon yellow has of course been the color on the academic robes of library sciences.

(Incidentally, the defeated Mr. Sigafos packed up his library and moved to California where, alas, he failed once more. There were, to be sure, plenty of lemons to serve with his tea, but, alas, there was no cream because the cow was not introduced to California until 1931 by John Wayne.)

Photographers Organize Club

• COLONIAL CAMERA, the University's newly-founded photo society, was given its first stamp of approval by the Student Council last Wednesday. The SC placed Colonial Camera on probationary status until it becomes fully organized and draws up a constitution. Professor R. P. Schlachet, of the journalism department, has agreed to become the group's faculty advisor for the present.

J. R. Black, HATCHET photographer, and chairman of the new society, announced the club's first activity would be an organizational meeting, Thursday, May 4, 7 pm, in the Student Council Conference room. All students are welcome to attend. An award-winning photo exhibition by Mr. George Tames, chief photographer, N.Y. Times Magazine, will be presented along with a short lecture on "photo-journalism" by Mr. Tames.

Also available for students' appreciation will be an expensive display of Miranda Photo Industries' complete series of 35 mm. equipment. A Miranda representative will be on hand to assist students wishing to examine any cameras.

"Any amateur cameraman who has longed for a darkroom of his own can have it now," says Jim Black. "All he has to do is get down here for the meeting and make his wishes known. The photo society exists with one purpose: to polish the techniques of serious amateurs."

The club's present nucleus of six members will establish a photographic laboratory on campus to further these aims, according to their petition.

Those club members achieving greatest competence will use the lab facilities of the club as staff photographers for campus publications. Other club members will support the club through fees whenever they wish to use the laboratory. The lecture series and instructional periods will be open to all members free of charge.

Student Council Elections

Stu Ross, candidate for Activities Director, is running on a platform of new, improved and expanded activities to be designed expressly with the purpose of including a greater segment of the student body. Ross favors an overall revitalization of Council activities and programs to stimulate participation of all students, especially night and part-time students.

Bob Levine, Ross's opposition for Activities Director, would promote more activities like Mardi Gras to raise school spirit. Levine would like to draw the foreign students into more campus participation and would like to have an event for Welling Hall.

Advocate

In the contest for Council Advocate, Jeff Young will face Bill Carter. Jeff Young proposes better student participation in Council planning to be fostered by provision for student initiative and referendum. A sealed box in the Union should be provided for students to place proposals for Council legislation. Young also advocates greater publicity aimed at increasing the participation of night and foreign students, and an improved program to encourage these students to become more a part of the student body.

Bill Carter wants a definite increase in support of and emphasis upon the foreign students program in the form of a weekend festival including a regular International Ball. Carter feels that more emphasis on advertising would give students extra incentive and build increased student spirit.

Student Union Chairman

Craig Davis, candidate for Student Union Board chairman, is campaigning for soundproofing in the Union, more use of student hired help in the Union, keeping the Union open on weekends and redecoration of the first floor of the Union.

Neal Berryman, candidate for Student Union Board Chairman, is recommending an improvement of Union food by change of catering contract if necessary, and expenditure of the new allocation for improvement of the Union in such a way that the desires of the students will be met. Also proposed are changes in the fourth floor study facilities to accommodate groups who wish to study together without disturbing others.

The Junior College representative race will be the most hotly contested with five candidates in the running.

Junior College

Jeff Hoffman stands on a platform of better representation through an open meeting every month to which all Junior College students are invited, a Junior-College Parent-Faculty Day for parents to become acquainted with the school; reduced Lisner prices for students and a tutoring committee for the Junior College to arrange help for students having difficulties.

Dick Cunningham's campaign features greater Junior College representation and participation through a Junior College Governing Board. Cunningham also favors more Junior College counselors to facilitate advising and a tutoring service to bring together students having scholastic difficulty and those with a desire to teach.

Linda Sennett's proposal for better Junior College representation is the creation of a Junior College Senate. Miss Sennett's program would also include the establishment of an incorporated radio station, the institution of student identification cards, election reforms, student information bulletins and student discount rates.

Ken Rietz feels that the Council should be made stronger and more active by offering a more diversified program, that the spirit and unity of the organization should be fostered and that in so doing, student interest and participation will be increased. Lee Deschamps favors setting up an independent, but subordinate, student council for the Junior College, organizing a car pool whereby students commuting to school could share rides, thereby saving money and parking spaces, a more responsible Council which would take the initiative in all student activities and would be instrumental in promoting school spirit possibly by making skits during half-time part of intramurals and by having pep rallies at a more suitable time than during lunch hour.

LUCKY STRIKE PRESENTS:

DEAR DR. FROOD:

DR. FROOD'S THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: BEWARE OF SUBLIMINAL ADVERTISING!
LUCKY STRIKE LUCKY STRIKE LUCKY STRIKE LUCKY STRIKE LUCKY STRIKE LUCKY STRIKE LUCKY STRIKE LUCKY STRIKE LUCKY STRIKE

Dear Dr. Frood: I've been reading a great deal about automated teaching devices. How long will it be before they come up with machines to replace professors?

Professor

DEAR PROFESSOR: Just as soon as they get one that can rap the knuckles of a sleeping student, give humiliating answers to foolish questions and spring surprise tests whenever it happens to be in a bad mood.

Dear Dr. Frood: My problem is fat, stubby fingers. As a result, I am exceedingly awkward with my hands. My manual dexterity is so poor, in fact, that I can't even get a Lucky pack open. What can I do?

Fingers

DEAR FINGERS: Simply strap ordinary sewing needles along both of your index fingers. Now cup the Lucky pack in your hands, grasp the little red tab in your teeth, and yank. Next, place the pack on a flat surface and secure it between two unabridged dictionaries. Then, with the right-hand needle, carefully, carefully carve a one-inch-square opening at the top right-hand corner. Finally, place the points of the needles firmly against the sides of a Lucky and lift. That's all there is to it. A word of warning though: Try to be careful when shaking hands.

Dear Dr. Frood: In the four years I've been at this college I've done some pretty horrible things. I am guilty, for instance, of [redacted] into and around the home of Professor [redacted]. I'm also ashamed of [redacted] the Board of Regents, and completely [redacted] the campus policeman's [redacted]. But the worst thing I did was [redacted] after hiding all night in the [redacted]. Can I, in good conscience, even accept a diploma from dear old [redacted]?

DEAR [redacted]: You can if you send $500 in unmarked bills to Dr. Frood, Box 2990, Grand Central Station, New York 17, N. Y. If you don't, I'll print your letter without the little black lines.

Dear Dr. Frood: Don't you think it's wrong for a boy and girl to marry while they're still in school?

Soc. Major

DEAR SOC.: Yes, they should at least wait until recess.

THE HANDWRITING IS ON THE WALL, says Dr. Frood. Or, more exactly, on the blackboard. It's appearing on college blackboards everywhere: "College students smoke more Luckies than any other regular." Why is this statement showing up on college blackboards? Because I am paying agents to put it there. For you must remember that Luckies are the cigarette with taste—the emphatic toasted taste. Try a pack of Luckies today.

PhiSD 1 1 2 0 0-4
Gents 8 8 0 2 2-18

The Med School (F&S) displayed a new pitching threat in John Marlow as they whipped SPE, 5-1. In his five inning stint Marlow struck out 12 and walked but one. He gave up only one hit—a Texas leaguer to short center. Bill Rowe and Don Wilner led the Doctors' attack. Rowe drove in two runs in the first inning with a triple and Wilner hit a tremendous smash over the left fielder for a homer in the second frame.

SPE 1 0 0 0 0-1
Med (J&S) 2 0 1 1 1-5

In the B League competition, DTD defeated TKE by a score of 15-5. Bob Raybold pitched for the Deltas and was supported by the sticks of Ham Beggs, Bear Massey, and Rudy Heintze. Ed Keels took the loss for TKE.

This week's schedule was marred by a number of forfeits. SAE won both their games via the easy route when SX and PAD both failed to show up; ROTC forfeited to the Med School (J&S); Med School (F&S) forfeited to AEPI; SX forfeited to PIKA, and PAD forfeited to Med School (J&S).

Drexel Tops Crew Team

• THE UNIVERSITY crew team came in a close third to two Drexel University varsity teams at their meet in Philadelphia last Saturday.

Drexel won the 15/16 mile race in 7:17.06; second place was 7:34.44. The University raced the distance in 7:36.

Bow man on our team was Tom Rogers. Also rowing were Lou Adams, Peter Koehler, Jon Hagerly, Pete Wasilewski, Serge Yonov, and Ron Reeves. Also on the team were Bill Perazich and Rich Tonrod, Coxswain. University spars were Frank Wiesman and George Hamilton.

Also at the meet, the Cornell University varsity squad defeated the University of Pennsylvania in both the junior and senior varsity divisions.

Netmen Capture Two Of Three Matches In Conference Tune-Up

by Marty Gersten

• THE NETMEN CLOSED their season this week by winning two of their three matches. The Colonials trounced the University of Richmond, 8-1, on Monday at Richmond, bowed to Navy, 8-1, at Navy on Wednesday, and downed West Virginia, 8-1, on Thursday at Carter Barron Field. Although the season has not netted the team many victories, these latest ones are important because next week, the team competes in the Southern Conference Tournament. This final show of power is a result of the team's concerted effort to develop the potential which has always existed.

• THE 'A' LEAGUE competition for the various crowns continued to be fast and furious in the second week of softball competition.

AEPI took over undisputed possession of the number one slot by virtue of their 13-8 victory over the Med School (F&S). The victory leaves the Apes with the only unblemished record in their league. AEPI started off quickly, as they did last week, scoring heavily in the early frames. Bob Hirsch, their lead-off batter, homered his first time up to start off the Ape rally which saw five runs cross the plate. Pete Constantine and Steve Sandler also helped the AEPI attack with a homer and three hits respectively. Al Ezrin held on to the Ape lead despite a last inning rally led by John Toomy and Joe Svoboda.

Med (F&S)	1	1	1	4	—	8
AEPI	8	5	0	0	x—	13

PhiSK jumped on SN for a 14-4 runaway victory. Bill Dierks again pitched an excellent game and received able hitting support to tuck away his second victory in as many starts. Dierks showed good control, walking only two men and striking out six. Hain Swope started things off in the first inning by driving in two runs and then scoring himself on a homer by Dick Fischman. Swope collected three hits for the day as did Bud Mulcock to lead the Phi Sig attack.

PhiSK	4	6	3	2	x—	14

Delta Tau Delta displayed tremendous power by pulling out their ballgame against Pike in extra innings by a 12-7 margin. The game was tied at seven apiece at the end of the regulation five inning but the deciding runs weren't scored until the top of the seventh.

Hits flowed throughout the game, as did the beer the night before, with both teams pounding the pill for 26 hits in all. Buddy Pollack collected three hits to lead the Delt attack. Pollack got a clutch two-bagger in the decisive seventh inning as well as a home run earlier in the game. Charlie Duncan picked up the win for the Deltas and Don Ardell sustained the loss for the Pikes. Ardell was also the top hitter for the Pikes, contributing two hits, both for extra bases. Al Leonardo also got two hits and played a great fielding game at shortstop.

Pike	2	4	0	0	1	0	0—	7

The Welling Gents remained in a tie for the top spot in the A-1 League via a 15-4 romp over PhiSD. Elis Wisler hurled for the Gents and had fine hitting support from Nick Anzelmi, Bob Barbieri

Buff Linksters Split Matches

... MARV SINGMAN practices his putting stroke.

• LAST FRIDAY, THE Colonial Golfers journeyed down to Richmond to participate in a triangular match with VMI and Richmond. The Linksters fared poorly against the very tough competition, bowing to Richmond, 4-2, and halving the VMI contest, 3-3.

The matches, played in three-somes, were decided by the last group. The Colonials needed two victories by Marv Singman to gain ties with Richmond and VMI. But Marv could only manage a single win over the Keydet.

Number one man, Bob Haney, shot a 77, low round for the Colonials. He defeated Larry Dixon of Richmond but lost to Bill Cowardin of VMI. Cowardin scored an amazing 76 which included an eight, a double bogey, 13 pars and two birdies.

Eddie Bowers lost both his matches playing number two man. Bob Carmine of Richmond won two and one and Pete van Fleet, who shot a 72, won five and four. Marv Singman shot a 79 to defeat

Jim Hiller of VMI but lost to Mac Diron of the Spiders. Seth Rosen blew a three-up lead at the end of nine holes, losing to the Spiders' Bob Nunnally. Seth still managed to trounce Jim Cox of the Keydets, six and five.

Last Wednesday, the Colonials scored an amazing upset victory over VPI, 6½-2½ on a windswept course. Bob Haney and Eddie Bowers paired very well to account for all three possible points. Bowers and Haney each won the individual matches and also copped the best ball. All the matches were won on the seventeenth hole by scores of two and one.

In the next foursome, Marv Singman won his match two and one. Although Seth Rosen lost his match, he and Singman still were able to combine for a best ball victory, two and one. The windy weather didn't bother Steve Rubin too much as he won his match three and two. Herbie Goldblatt lost his match two and one and the best ball was halved at the end of eighteen holes.
